

D-Trade Application Attachments

While D-Trade accepts a variety of file formats, searchable .PDF is preferred, as it facilitates review of the application.

There are some formats that are not acceptable: executable (.exe) files, hyperlinks, and video media.

Attachments that are greater than 10 MB in size may present a problem to the applicant. While DDTC can process applications that have acceptable attachments larger than 10MB, we are aware that applicants may not be able to reopen an application that has such a file attached. (For example, an application is completed, but not signed, pending a final review; in this instance, applicant may not be able to reopen the application.) If the applicant must submit an attachment in excess of 10 MB, we recommend that the applicant submit the application with a scanned document as an attachment stating that the >10 MB attachment will be submitted via additional documentation once the original application has been submitted and accepted.

Please do not submit documentation in support of a D-Trade license via any other means than D-Trade.
