REPORT BY THE DEPARTMENT OF STATE PURSUANT TO SEC. 655 OF THE FOREIGN ASSISTANCE ACT

Direct Commercial Sales Authorizations for Fiscal Year 1999

Overview

This report covers defense articles and defense services licensed for export during Fiscal Year 1999 under Section 38 of the Arms Export Control Act. It is provided pursuant to Section 655 of the Foreign Assistance Act and, as required by that Section, the report shows the aggregate dollar value and quantity of defense articles and defense services authorized to each foreign country.

In accordance with subsection (d) of Section 655, this report is also being made available to the public on the Internet through the Department of State, Office of Defense Trade Controls at www.pmdtc.org.

In view of the growing role of manufacturing license agreements and technical assistance agreements, the presentation of this year's report has been revised to distinguish more clearly between authorizations pertaining to defense articles and those associated with defense services. While the overall number of export licenses authorized under Section 38 has remained relatively constant at approximately 45,000 per annum since 1994, the number of manufacturing license agreements and technical assistance agreements within that overall number has risen steadily each year since the mid-1990s (figure 1).

This trend appears to reflect the growing complexity of commercial defense trade as international joint ventures, co-production, licensed manufacturing and offset arrangements involving offshore assembly or procurement increasingly characterize major sales. Accordingly, a similar trend line in this time frame exists for licenses that trigger mandatory notification to Congress under the Arms Export Control Act (discussed further below) before a license may be approved (figure 2)

Part 1 of the report details approximately $18.5 billion in licenses covering defense articles, while Part 2 provides aggregate information by country on authorizations for defense services (i.e., agreements) totaling $28.3 billion. Importantly, the value of authorizations provided under Section 38 for defense articles and defense services does not correlate to the value of articles transferred during this same time frame. Most munitions licenses issued for articles shown in Part 1 are valid for four years and may be used throughout their period of validity to carry out transactions that have been specifically authorized.[1]

Similarly, manufacturing license and technical assistance agreements set forth in Part 2 of the report cover a wide range of programmatic activities for multi-year periods (generally exceeding the four-year validity period of permanent export licenses). Because the scope of the Department's regulatory authority over such agreements continues for as long as these multi-year agreements remain in effect, authorizations furnished in Fiscal Year 1999 also include certain activities occurring in prior years. Such post hoc reporting generally is due to instances where the State Department directed an audit of an agreement (including the value of articles produced) in order to ensure compliance with the Arms Export Control Act and, in particular, the oversight by Congress mandated in Section 36 of the Act[2] with respect to major sales and manufacturing abroad of significant military equipment.

[1] However, this report will be expanded for the period covering Fiscal Year 2001 to reflect actual transfers consistent with an amendment to Section 38 enacted through the Foreign Relations Authorization Act for Fiscal Years 2000 and 2001, which requires reporting by exporters to the Department within 15 days of shipment.

[2] Sales of major defense equipment valued at $14 million or more or other defense articles and defense services valued at $50 million or more, and technical assistance and manufacturing license agreements involving the

The results of such audits frequently disclose higher values than previously reported or initially projected by U.S. defense firms owing to a variety of factors, including extensions in the validity of agreements well beyond the original time frame envisaged. For example, of the $28.3 billion shown in Part 2 of the report, $10.3 billion is due to the results of one U.S. defense company's audits of agreements previously licensed to a recently acquired subsidiary.[3]

Authorizations under Section 38 in Fiscal Year 1999 continued to center principally on a relatively small number of friends and allies of the United States. During this period defense trade with two major allies, the United Kingdom and Japan continued to reflect a large portion of the dollar value of all authorizations furnished under Section 38 (i.e., the overall DCS program). The United Kingdom and Japan are perennially the largest cooperative partners of the United States in relation to defense trade carried out under Section 38 (table 1).
